At Oswego Playschool, we foster growth and learning through a creative play experience that is centered on developmentally appropriate practice. In our interactive classrooms, knowledge is built through exploration in art, science, literacy, music, cooking, dramatic, and outside play. Children have a choice in how they use their energy. Our program is conducive to promoting self-esteem, friendship, and success. We value diversity and equity with focus on promoting a diverse staff, board, and community that provides a strong support system for the family. As one of the oldest parent cooperative preschools in Oregon, we value traditions but are excited to add a new teacher for our 70th school year!
